I am Pat McNamara and I have been involved with the sport of wrestling for the past 26 years. Having worked with all levels of wrestlers from the college ranks through the kids club level, I believe my experience has helped me understand how to successfully develop wrestlers. Because of my experience in not only attending camps as a competitor, but also as a coach and instructor, I understand how to create a highly successful learning environment.

Relentless Attack Wrestling Camp is designed to teach a high level system that will allow a wrestler to beat the best competition. Our goal is to focus on teaching a relentless style of attack in a structured environment with wrestlers getting the necessary quality repetitions to successfully master the techniques over a three day period.

I am extremely excited about this year's camp staff. We have brought in the best clinicians from three of the best wrestling universities in the country.

Pat McNamara

These Clinicians have a great mix of techniques and styles that will help our wrestlers learn and develop their wrestling abilities. These Clinicians were selected not only for their wrestling skills, but also because they are great role models.
